WELCOME

WELCOME

HER EXCELLENCY THE HONOURABLE MARGARET BEAZLEY AC KC

GOVERNOR OF NEW SOUTH WALES

As Patron of the Royal Agricultural Society of New South Wales, I am delighted to welcome you to this year's Sydney Royal Easter Show.

For 12 days, from 2–13 April, the Showground will come alive with the adrenaline of the carnival, the thrill of hard-fought competitions, the spectacle of produce and livestock displays, and the excitement of enthralling entertainment. Close to a million people are expected to attend, with around 13,000 animals across 400 different breeds set to strut, sprint, jump and slither around the grounds!

Across 203 years, the Show has grown to become the largest agricultural event in the southern hemisphere, and one of Australia's largest ticketed events – securing its reputation as a gem in New South Wales' crown and a stellar highlight of our State's calendar.

From the first Show back in 1823, this event has been about the showcasing of excellence. Over the decades since, millions of Australians have engaged with the people and produce of our thriving agricultural industry as the show has 'brought the country to the city'.

Beyond the entertainment, carnival and family fun, the Show plays a vital role in supporting rural and regional communities across the State. As proud Patron of the Royal Agricultural Society of New South Wales I am keen for you to know that every ticket purchased helps fund scholarships, youth programs and initiatives that are helping to foster the next generation of agricultural leaders.

Like many of you, the Show was a part of my childhood. It is a great joy to see it evolve, expand and continue to attract the young and young at heart.

I hope to see you in April at the Sydney Royal Easter Show, 2026!

Her Excellency the Honourable Margaret Beazley AC KC
Governor of New South Wales

JOHN C BENNETT OAM

PRESIDENT, ROYAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY OF NSW

Each April, as the city comes alive with the colour and spirit of the Sydney Royal Easter

Show, I'm reminded how special this event is to so many, myself included. The Show's sense of community, tradition and excitement never fades, no matter how many times you walk through the gates.

Having served as Ringmaster and Chair of the Horse Committee, I have a soft spot for the Horse section. The partnership between horse and rider, and the pride shown in every event, always captivate me. I can't wait to be ringside again this year.

Away from the arena, I have been growing pumpkins for the District Exhibits this year, something I have loved since I was 12 years old. I still remember winning a Certificate of Merit for my gramma in 1984, a moment that sparked a lifelong affection for the Show.

I am also eager to see David "The Bullet" Smith, the Human Cannonball. I met him last year in Denver and his enthusiasm for performing here is infectious. I am sure he will be a great hit.

Most of all, I look forward to greeting everyone and sharing in the joy the Show brings each and every year.

SHOWBAG FEVER

A century of sweet surprises.

It's one of the great annual conundrums of the Show. Do you rush to the Showbag Hall first thing with the kids, or wait strategically until the end of the day to load up on the way out so you won't have to carry them around for too long? But in 1947 and 1948 there was only one answer. Get in fast or miss out.

In the Royal Hall of Industries, where the sample bag stands were set up, scenes of chaos and pandemonium reigned. Bags sold out in 90 minutes and police were repeatedly called in to manage unruly crushes as the public clamoured for more. At one stall people pressed so heavily that the counter and showcases began to give way. More than once the Hall was closed for hours at a time to regain order and allow for restocking, only for the stampede to begin again when doors reopened.

Attendance hit stratospheric levels at these first Shows after the Second World War as people returned to their favourite event of year, seeking the comfort of familiar pleasures, while also looking forward to the new offerings of a rapidly changing society. Wartime rationing and continuing shortages of sugar and cocoa turned everyone especially bonkers for sample bags featuring chocolates and sweets.

THE BIRTH OF THE SAMPLE BAG

The beloved showbag had simple beginnings. One unverified story has it that in 1906 bread rolls were thrown out to a crowd and the subsequent spike in sales at the stall gave other commercial exhibitors the idea of handing out free samples. As early as 1909, it seems, vendors began putting give-away products into bags. Thus, the sample bag was born – a Sydney Royal Easter Show innovation that gradually spread to agricultural shows around the nation.

By 1922 some companies imposed nominal charges of threepence or sixpence to help defray costs, particularly as it became more common to add small trinkets and toys. Businesses spent big on their displays, sometimes building working models of their manufacturing process – Arnotts biscuits, Minties and cigarettes all rolled off mini production lines in front of Showgoers eyes, while costumed attendants distributed bags. But the expense was worth it.

SHOWTIME: THE ULTIMATE ADVERTISING STAGE

Showtime was primetime when it came to advertising. No other event or medium was so effective in reaching so many people. By the early 1930s the population of New South Wales was around 2.5 million, and Show attendance figures invariably climbed well over the half million. On those numbers, exhibitors were putting their products in front of one in five people in the state, and with sample bags their wares went directly into people's hands to create a personal interaction with brands.

It was an ideal way to introduce a new line. In 1932, for example, →

The showbag had become a treasured product in its own right and themed showbags emerged that had nothing to do with manufacturing and everything to do with the zeitgeist.

Australian firm Kolynos offered a bag which included specially prepared samples of their new dental plate cleaning powder and headache tablets, with 'sufficient supply of each to ensure a thorough trial'. Likewise, at around the same time, the Peak Frean biscuit company included a new crisp bread for slimmers in their bag. It was the Vita Weat, destined to be a staple in many homes for generations to come.

During the 1930s the price of some sample bags climbed to one shilling but plenty were still free – enough at least to sustain three runaway boys who, in 1932, hid on the Showground for a week, sleeping in a cattle stall and feasting on giveaways.

SHOWBAGS BECOME BIG BUSINESS

As free sample bags morphed forever into showbags with a price always attached, the business of producing and packing them became, well, a business. Several in fact. Individual product manufacturers could no longer manage the logistics of ever-increasing volumes, so a handful of commercial operators evolved to take over the niche task of making and supplying bags to agricultural shows around the country. Consumer concerns about value for money bubbled up and in 1962 the RAS stepped in to audit and approve showbags each year to ensure patrons got a fair deal. Novelties were inspected for safety, and police had a role too, checking for over-realistic toy weapons.

FROM MICKEY MOUSE TO MODERN MEDIA

The contents of showbags have always reflected the social trends of their times and at least as far back as the 1930s, icons of popular culture have been enlisted to add appeal to offerings. The Pick-Me-Up Condiment Company (PMU) was onto a winner when it included a photo of Mickey and Minnie Mouse in their 1936 sample bag. Mickey was perhaps the first global superstar. Internationally, nearly half a billion people had seen the most recent Mickey Mouse movie, and licensing offices set up around the world sold his image for use on every conceivable item from watches to china plates, clothes and hot water bottles – to cans of PMU's baked beans and spaghetti.

As the twentieth century rolled on and TV was introduced, the showbag lost some of its advertising punch, but it hardly mattered: companies were still willing to provide showbags at a small loss, just for the good-will vibes. The showbag had become a treasured product in its own right and themed showbags emerged that had nothing to do with manufacturing and everything to do with the zeitgeist. Dedicated to the latest popular toys, TV shows, movies and music stars, fads and fashions, these bags proliferate today.

Changing social values have made their mark too. Plastic carry bags took over from the original printed paper bags as the holdall of choice, but growing environmental concerns pushed us towards reusable and eco-friendly bags. And now the humble paper bag is making a comeback.

Showbags for a wider good have been another development, led by the RAS. Debuting in 2011, the Sydney Royal sample bag put a collection of award-winning products from outstanding food producers together. And in 2024, the Give & Gather Bag was introduced, which raises funds for the RAS Foundation. It contains discounts for Show stores and rides, and vouchers to redeem goodies around the ground, mimicking the old days of collecting samples.

The Show is a split personality event – as much about nostalgia as it is about the latest thing – and perhaps nothing so embodies these opposite traits as the beloved showbag. Where kids once poured over newspaper liftouts to weigh up their Showtime choices, now they study online guides. But each generation faces the same tricky decisions – to stick with old favourites or lash out on the new. Freddo v

Opposite: Darrell Lea sample bag stand, 1956.

Frozen? Hubba Bubba v Bubble Tea? But guess who's still making an appearance with a bag of her own? None other than Mickey Mouse's partner Minnie. Perhaps the squeaky pair don't have the same commercial clout they once did, but just like the Show, we still love 'em.

SUPPORTING RURAL FUTURES

RAS Foundation fundraising events at the Show.

Beyond the excitement of rides, showbags, animals and entertainment, the Sydney Royal Easter Show also plays an important role in supporting rural and regional communities. Each year, the RAS Foundation raises vital funds through a series of special events and initiatives – including the Charity Brunch, Give & Gather Bag and Raffle – all helping to create opportunities and strengthen country New South Wales.

GIVE & GATHER BAG

The RAS Foundation will again be offering the Give & Gather Bag – its annual fundraising showbag at the 2026 Sydney Royal Easter Show. It provides a unique way to explore the Show and enjoy incredible value on food, rides and shopping, whilst supporting rural and regional communities across NSW.

For $30, each bag includes:

- Exclusive giveaways;
- Discount vouchers for rides, food and shopping; and
- A colour-coded Show map to help you find participating exhibitors and redeem your offers.

Every dollar raised from the purchase of this bag goes directly to the RAS Foundation's Community Futures Grants, which provides financial assistance for vital community projects across rural and regional NSW. When you purchase a Give & Gather Bag at this year's Show, you're helping rural towns continue to flourish.

Visit rasnsw.com.au/RASFGG

THE RAFFLE

The RAS Foundation Raffle offers the chance to win over $28,000 of prizes, including a $25,000 family travel voucher, all while supporting a great cause. Each ticket purchased contributes to the Foundation's efforts, with particular focus on education, scholarships and community projects. The Raffle is a fun and engaging way for show-goers to get involved and make a difference. We welcome you to join us at the 2026 Sydney Royal Easter Show and participate in these meaningful fundraising events to support the RAS Foundation's mission and make a positive impact on rural and regional Australia.

Visit RaffleTix to enter.

CHARITY BRUNCH

Each year, the RAS Foundation selects an organisation making a meaningful difference in rural and regional New South Wales to be the beneficiary of the RAS Foundation Charity Brunch.

In 2026, the Charity Brunch will support an important early literacy program for children in the towns of Brewarrina, Coonamble, Gilgandra and Walgett. The program aims to improve reading and comprehension skills among young learners, helping to foster a lifelong love of learning and open opportunities for their futures. Funds raised through this year's event will directly support educational resources, local reading initiatives and community engagement activities to strengthen literacy outcomes across these regional communities.

The RAS Foundation Charity Brunch will be held on Wednesday, 8 April 2026, from 9:30am to 12pm in the Playfair Room, Council Stand. Visit rasnsw.com.au/charitybrunch to purchase tickets for the RAS Foundation Charity Brunch.
